

Studio Tuition and Policies

$100/month

half-hour lesson

$150/month

forty-five minute lesson

$200/month

hour lesson

If not paid at the first lesson of the month a late payment fee of $5 is added.

Policies:

- Lesson tuition is due and payable at the first lesson of the month. Tuition is per student, based on a 4-week month (48 lessons per year). Lessons are a yearlong commitment. Group classes are held from September through May.
- Families who will be dropping are required to give a 30 day written drop notice to the teacher. An oral drop notice is not acceptable. If a 30 day written drop notice is not received, you will receive a final bill for one month's tuition charges.
- No credit will be given for lessons cancelled by the student. Only lessons cancelled by the teacher will be made up or rebated. If you know in advance that you cannot be at a lesson, try to arrange a trade with another student studying with the same teacher. You can repay the favor another time.
- A tardy student has only the time remaining in the lesson period.
- A parent is expected to be present for the student's lesson. Plan to take notes of teaching points learned, practice hints for the week, and assignments for the following lesson for use at home. Please silence cell phones and wait until after the lesson to take calls.
- Siblings are welcome. However, the parent is responsible for their quiet behavior. For their safety, young children must not be allowed to wander. Please leave your family pets at home. The teaching room is the music studio; the rest of the house belongs to the teacher's family.
- The teacher will make every effort to provide a setting free from distractions for your child's lesson. Please be sure that your child is rested, is not hungry or ill, and will be able to give the fullest attention to the private lesson teacher.